

THE STAR-LEDGER

Comperatore elected to NJAA board

Vincent C. Comperatore of Comperatore Associates, a full-service real estate investment firm located in Totowa, has been elected to the board of directors of the New Jersey Apartment Association (NJAA) for a three-year term. NJAA is a statewide association comprised of apartment owners and management companies headed by its recently elected president, Jonathan S. Gershen, and its long-term director, Jeanne Gorman.

For more than 17 years, NJAA has provided its members with full service legislative and regulatory representation throughout New Jersey, with efforts focused on tracking hundreds of proposals each year that may directly impact the apartment industry. NJAA members meet monthly to discuss timely information and upcoming trade, legislative, educational and charitable events and programs sponsored by the association.

Comperatore has been a leading consultant, and specialist in income producing properties throughout New Jersey for more than 25 years. His firm's real estate services include consulting, brokerage and property management. He has been an active member of NJAA for 12 years, and also serves on its legislative committee.
